From the Journal of Commerce. Chide Mildly the Erring.

BY CAPT. G. W. PATTEN, U. S. ARMY. Chide mildly the erring! Kind language endears; Grief follows the sinful,-

Avoid with reproaches Fresh pain to bestow, The heat which is stricken Needs never a blow.

Chide mildly the erring!

Add not to their tears.

Jeer not at their fall ! If strength were but human, How weakly were all! What marvel that footsteps Should wander astray,

When tempests so shadow Life's wearisome way! Chide mildly the erring! Entreat them with care Their natures are mortal,

They need not despair. We all have some frailty, We all are unwise, And the grace which redeems us, Must shine from the skies.

He received an appointment of Deputy Postmaster in a smal town in Maine, and the next notice we had of him came in a letter of his own hand writing, dated in Jail, praying for efforts in February: his behalf, to save him from the severe penalty which would follow his condemnation for robbing letters of their contents. Letters had been rifled, their contents stolen the money identified and traced to him, and he was found guilty, in spite of all efforts to save him, and sentenced to seven years' imprisonment in the penitentiary or county Jail. He chose the latter. April: When first accused, he was engaged to a beautiful and accomplished woman, who, with a true woman's heart, clung to him and his fortunes, the more fortune seemed to frown upon him.
